

In this issue

Research Article

Open Access Research Article PTZAID:GJODMS-5-131

Diabetes mellitus and heart diseases

Published On: February 16, 2018 | Pages: 003 - 007

Author(s): Afa Bayramova*

Diabetes mellitus is recognized by World Health Organisation experts as a non-communicable epidemic and represents a serious medical and social problem. In 2012, suffered of diabetes mellitus about 6.4% (285 million) of the world's inhabitants. By 2030, the number of patients is expected to increase to 7.7% (439 million people) [1]. ...

Abstract View Full Article View DOI: 10.17352/2455-8583.000031

Opinion

Open Access Opinion PTZAID:GJODMS-5-130

Diabetic foot: What to do and not to do

Published On: February 08, 2018 | Pages: 001 - 002

Author(s): Mario Pappagallo*

Those who live with diabetes must pay attention to its extremities, especially the feet. ...

Abstract View Full Article View DOI: 10.17352/2455-8583.000030